Terry Lindley Appointed Board Trustee

On January 29 in the Office of the President, W. Terry Lindley was sworn in by SRJC's Board President B. Robert Burdo as Board Trustee. Terry will fill a vacancy on the board made when Joseph Palla resigned in December following his election to the city council for the City of Cloverdale.

A SRJC graduate, cattle rancher, and Vice President of Marketing and Communications for American AgCredit, Terry served on SRJC's Board from 1994 to 2004, and was a past board president and an adjunct faculty member in the Agriculture Business Program. His extensive community involvement includes President of the Sonoma County Vintners Foundation, SRJC Foundation Director, Ag Trust Board, Rotarian, among many other organizations. "It's very rewarding to have the opportunity to be part of such a wonderful institution," Terry says about his appointment.

Spotlighting Kenneth Bryant – First SRJC Retiree

SRJC's Classified Senate honors Mr. Kenneth Bryant for his contributions to SRJC. Kenneth was employed at SRJC from 1935 to 1953 in Buildings and Grounds and later as the Equipment Manager for the Physical Education Department. He was the College's first official Classified Retiree. Kenneth designed and built with his own hands the popular fountain at the center of the Santa Rosa Campus between the Bookstore and the new Doyle Library. The fountain has been a college landmark for over 70 years, and, as an Admissions and Records employee says, "the fountain it used it as a directional landmark for students all of the time."
