Baby News!

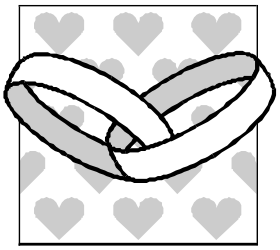
Grace Karin Wingard was born last Thursday, August 8, at Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital, the first grandchild of SRJC Counselor Karin Guzman and retired SRJC Behavioral Sciences Instructor Raoul Guzman, and daughter of Anna-Maria Guzman and Brian Wingard, both SRJC alumni. At birth Grace weighed 6 pounds 10 ounces and measure 19 inches in length. Parents and Grace are doing well, and Grandmother Guzman indicates, "Grace is absolutely precious!"

In Sympathy

Our sympathy and thoughts go out to friends and family of watercolor artist Audrey Jacobs who died on August 3 in the town of Bodega Bay. Audrey was married to former SRJC Board of Trustee member Jack Jacobs. She was born in Prince Rupert, British Columbia, but moved to Sebastopol at an early age with her family. She attended Analy High School, Santa Rosa Junior College, and graduated from San Jose State in 1945 with a degree in Art. She taught art and related subjects for two years at Armijo High School in Fairfield.

Audrey was involved in many community activities in Sebastopol which she continued after she and Jack moved to Bodega Bay in 1980. After her husband's death in 1986, she pursued a professional art career which led to her becoming a part of SAW (Sonoma Area Watercolorists) with fellow artists Wanda McManus of Bodega Bay, and Sylvia Miller of Santa Rosa. In the past eleven years the three women had conducted an annual holiday Art Show, held for the most part at Kendall-Jackson Winery, as well as other smaller shows and sales. Audrey also traveled extensively, with many trips to Europe, Asia, Mexico, and Central America, to develop subject matters for her watercolors. She made her last art trip to China for 30 days in November, 2001 with Sylvia Miller, as a guest of the Chinese government. Until her death she showed her art in many local galleries and businesses and was a part owner of Local Color Gallery, LLC, in Bodega Bay. She was active in the Bodega Bay Allied Arts and Watercolor Artists of Sonoma County (WASCO) art associations.

Donations in her name may be made to the John Muir and Audrey Jacobs Scholarship Fund with the Santa Rosa Junior College Foundation or the Bodega Bay Allied Arts Scholarship Fund, Box 803, Bodega Bay, CA 94923.



Congratulations!

Congratulations to Solomon Ghebretensae, of SRJC's Warehouse, on his recent marriage to his long-time friend, Yirgalem Gebreselasie. The two were married on August 4th at Lake Tahoe.

Staff News for Santa Rosa Junior College, August 16, 2002

Mac Computer Expo Scheduled September 21

The Mac Computer Expo, sponsored by the North Coast Mac Users Group, Sonoma Business Magazine, and SRJC's Computer Information Services will held at the SRJC Santa Rosa campus Saturday, September 21, in the Doyle Center. Free to attendees, the expo is the largest computer expo of its kind north of the Golden Gate and creates an opportunity for participants to better use their Mac computers.

Over 30 local and national vendors will be on hand to demonstrate cutting edge technology. Keynote speaker Chris Breen, Contributing Editor of Macworld Magazine, will discuss Apple's strategy involving the digital hub and the Mac as a multimedia device. Various sessions include: Branding Your True Company Image, Photo Restoration with Photoshop 7, Powerful Presentations Using PowerPoint, Getting Connected with Email Attachments, Word X With OSX, Shoot Like Ansel, and Small Business Promotion With iMovie. A special preview of Jaguar will highlight the day. Complete details of times and content of the sessions may be found at www.ncmug.org or questions may be directed to 544-1559.

SRT's 31st Season a Success

SRT Artistic Director, Frank Zwolinski, said this summer's SRT season was a "smashing success," and next year's season promises to be equally exciting. SRT's 32nd season will include: The Music Man, featuring music by Meredith Wilson; Wit , an intense play about a woman dying of cancer, which will star SRJC's Mollie Boice; The Solid Gold Cadillac, a comedy about corporate greed; Arcadia, which deals with memory, mathematics, love and family; The Rocky Horror Show, the stage version of the pop movie; and Moon Over Buffalo, a comedy about the world of the theater.

Zwolinski commented that staff may contact the SRJC Foundation at 527-4348 to arrange for payroll deduction to support SRT.

Staff Directory Photo Session Set for August 21

One last Staff Directory picture session is scheduled for this year's directory on Wednesday, August 21, from 11 a.m.-2 p.m., at Media Services in Plover Library on the Santa Rosa campus. No advanced signup is required.

The Staff Directory includes faculty who teach 40%-100%, and all regular classified staff. Call Bill Shelley at 524-1622 with any questions .

Fresh Produce On Sale!

SRJC's Sustainable Agriculture Program will re-open its popular Wednesday produce stand on the Santa Rosa campus, starting August 21.

Staff and students can buy fresh-picked vegetables, fruit and flowers grown at the college's Shone Farm. The stand will be located under the oaks between the Bookstore and Burbank Auditorium. Call Wendy Krupnick at 887-0740 for more information.
