REVISED: DECEMBER 9, 2008

ED CODE: 84756-7

TITLE 5: 55001-2

It is the intent of the College to recognize the importance of noncredit programs and courses and to support these offerings. The Board authorizes noncredit programs and courses when it is apparent that the College is the most appropriate provider for such offerings and has the resources to develop them. Such offerings may include courses and programs for parenting, elementary and secondary basic skills, English as a second language, immigrant education, persons with substantial disabilities, short-term vocational programs with high employment potential, workforce preparation, older adults, home economics, and health and safety education.

Additionally, the District may offer ancillary services to noncredit students that include counseling, advisement, orientation and assessment.
